Little Grassy Camp is located south of Carbondale on 190 acres of hills and trees, adjacent to a 1,000-acre lake. Being on the north edge of the Shawnee National Forest, campers have opportunities for rock-climbing and rappelling, caving and hiking as well as swimming and other traditional camp activities. Campers in grades 8-12 may attend an institute style camp as well as small group specialty camps.

While we continue to develop this website, we invite you to visit facility information at the IGRC Retreats website.
